Interesting Facts & Hobbies

- I have 3 daughters, love to travel, and have an identical twin sister who is an internal medicine physician!

Tell us more about your training and practice pattern.

I did my fellowship at Wake Forest, split between breast and peds. In practice I am around 40% mammo, 20% peds, and take general call. I love the procedures I get to do in breast and peds-- it's fun to be able to get out of my seat throughout the day and see patients a little!

Have you always been a private practice radiologist?

Both Private and academic practice provides leadership opportunities. My advice is to get involved — whether in your practice leadership, hospital, or medical staff committees, and/or nationally through the ACR, ARRS, RSNA and ABR, as well as in your community outside of radiology. There are wonderful opportunities for leadership, continued learning and professional camaraderie.
